Some Random Landscape Thoughts

Fall still has excellent weather and is a good time to soak up the outdoors, especially before winter hits. As you look to extend your time outside, consider these following trends that are influencing outdoor spaces this fall.

Jewel Tones

Classic fall colors like red, yellow and orange will seek competition from crisp and sophisticated jewel tones this season. Sapphire blue, emerald green, amethyst purple, ruby red and citrine yellow all bring warmth to fall landscape design. You can add pops of jewel tones with unique container gardens, decorative furnishings, accessories and seasonal plantings.

Cozy Outdoor Living

With a few easy touches, outdoor spaces are still fully usable for most of fall. Fire features can heat up chilly fall nights with ease and ambience. Pergolas with retractable canopies and heating systems can also create comfort in the cooler months.

Textured Plantings

Fall provides the opportunity to refresh garden beds and containers. You can add rich color and texture by planting mums, ornamental kales, cabbage and peppers, as well as snapdragons, pansies and grasses.

Lush Lawns

Well-maintained lawns support the well-being of neighborhoods and allow communities to connect, play, celebrate and unwind. Fall is often the forgotten season for yard care, but it is one of the most critical seasons for lawns and landscapes. By working with a professional on essential fall lawn care needs, you will see an abundance of benefits come spring.

This fall, create a trendy outdoor space with fire features and pergolas, comfortable seating, attractive plantings and jewel tones.

Stunning Fall Gardens

Adding at least one tree chosen for its fall foliage display can have a big impact in the garden.

Add Topiary

A hardworking element in the fall garden that provides contrast, form and structure.

Create a Spot to Rest

A pair of chairs can encourage you to slow down and appreciate the passing of the season.

Contrast Textures

Placing plants with bold & structural forms next to lighter & airy forms creates more interest.

Dress Up Your Doorstep

A trio of fall-themed containers placed by the front door creates a very welcoming entrance.

Ornamental Edibles

Many cool-season veggies can be decorative in garden beds and provide a steady harvest through the holidays.

Incorporate Fruit Trees

Fall fruits can be equally as dramatic as colorful leaves. Persimmon trees are perfect in fall gardens.
