Some Random Landscape Thoughts

Since the pandemic started more homeowners have embraced outdoor living by prioritizing functional outdoor spaces in their backyards to relax, work, and most importantly spend time with family. Studies show that 85% more homeowners are willing to invest in outdoor living spaces this year. I have personally seen this trend as we have helped multiple families reach their goals with upgrading their backyard into something beautiful that all can enjoy. By having a vision and utilizing the space you have, we can accomplish projects such as cooking, exercise, or even support for remote work. Heating and cooling elements as well as lighting are also crucial to ensure usability year-round. Experts predict 48% of outdoor spaces will be adapted to allow for use during any season. More and more homeowners are trending to outdoor kitchens, patios and grilling stations. As we are quickly moving through 2021, the interest in outdoor living shows no signs of waning. As a Design Build Contractor we are always staying up-to-date on the latest trends, materials, and installation techniques. With the right tools and ideas in place we continue to strive to create amazing spaces for all homeowners.
